JOHN C. THOMSON, M.A., M.D., Superintendent.

THE BARRADAS CASE. Zilinda Maria Barradas, lately superintendent of the money order department, in the Hongkong Post Office, who is charged with the larceny of $51,000, was brought before Mr. Wodehouse in the Police Court to-day, on remand. Mr. A. B. Johnson, Crown Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. D. E. Caldwell for the defence.

A. K. Travens, Acting Postmaster General, cross-examined by Mr. Caldwell, said:—The Post Office has only one account with the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank. There is also a general Government account. It is into the latter account the prisoner ought to have taken the moneys which he is charged with taking. The charges only apply to Imperial moneys. There is no accusation against him with regard to moneys which have been paid into the local account. As I know, the money paid into the Government account would have gone forward to the Crown Agents to money order and postal accounts. The London Post-office sent out the postal notes to us. When any of these were delivered to the prisoner, he represented cash for which he had to account. We have to account to London for the total value of the postal notes sent. The money is remitted by the Treasury; we merely advise. The Crown Agents' accounts come to the Government, not to us. Having advised the Treasury, we have nothing more to do. We do not know whether the money is remitted to the Crown Agents, or whether, having been remitted, the Crown Agents pay it over to the London Post-office. My department never gets any accounts from the London Post-office. The Government is not present when the prisoner is shown the position on account of my department and the Crown Agents, and the General Post-office in London. Without those accounts I cannot say whether the money has been remitted or not. The prisoner is supposed to have appropriated about $51,000. I am now Acting Postmaster General. I was created three days ago. I arrived at the moment when the prisoner was shown the position on account of my department and the Crown Agents, and the General Post-office in London.

THE RESIGNATION OF ADMIRAL LANG. The Chinese Times says:—Captain W. M. Lang, R.N., resigned his commission as Co-Admiral of the Chinese fleet on the 16th inst., and the same has been accepted by the Viceroy. It is not probable that the Chinese officers will follow the example of Captain Lang. Commenting on the resignation, our contemporary remarks:—The resignation that has been going on among the Chinese officers has had for its proximate object the establishment of a "Home Rule" in the service of the Chinese Government. The most powerful force in the composition of the fleet of the Chinese fleet is the fleet of the Chinese fleet. The fleet of the Chinese fleet is the fleet of the Chinese fleet. The fleet of the Chinese fleet is the fleet of the Chinese fleet.

EMIGRATION FROM SHANGHAI. It will be news to most of our readers who (Shanghai Mercury) imagine, to hear that a German firm is at present trying an experiment in exporting coolies from Shanghai to Java, or Sumatra, or are not sure which. We do not know whether the Agents have yet obtained the consent of the Provincial Authorities to the scheme, but we suppose they would hardly proceed so far as to select from day to day, at a large godown in the English Settlement, likely emigrants, and send them off to the Colonies, by the first steamer to be called by the Colonies, by the first steamer to be called by the Colonies.
